A SHORT ROUND INSPIRED BY THE CLASSICS

Doon Brae was designed by Raymond Hearn to be fun for all levels of golfers. The name was chosen for this new exciting addition to The Highlands due to our English/Scottish architectural heritage. Doon means going down into a valley, and Brae means hillside in Scotland. It is fitting since the course routing is set along the hillside, doubling as a ski slope in winter.

Excellent par 3s and examples of classic green designs worldwide inspired the holes. Some of the great work of CB McDonald and Seth Raynor are represented, as are designs from courses such as Old Course at St. Andrews Golf Links, Royal County Down, Royal Troon, Royal Dornoch, The National Golf Links, and Chicago Golf Club. The greens complexes and bunkers are somewhat smaller or less severe than their originals, and the holes were shortened to facilitate a more enjoyable short-course experience. Rather than traditional tee boxes, each hole has three hitting areas, and guests can play from any location.

We hope you enjoy the creativity, strategic challenge, beauty, and incredible views that Doon Brae offers!
